The chancellor, it seems, was ready to throw over the triple alliance and enter into a new one with Russia. To this the Emperor could not consent because, it is stated, he considered his honor pledged to Austria and Italy. As matters have turned out, the judgment of the Emperor has certainly been vindicated. For whatever it is worth, Germany now has Russia's first friendship, and the triple alliance, though rather a nominal and formal affair, continues to serve a useful part in the preservation of seed oil part in the preservation of seed oil with the preservation of the Emperor and the preservation of the Emperor and the place with the count and countess, as for the count and countes, with a sell on its own merits. Mr. Rawlings will be accompanied by his brother, Jesse M. Rawlings, who will act as his best man. Miss Mable E. Rawlings is already in Buffalo and will act as the bride's maid of honor. After the middle of November the couple will be at home at the Portsmouth on Street.

An interesting wedding of Wednesday evening will be that of Miss Elizabeth Webb Robinson and Harold Clinton Smith, which will take place in the home of the bride, 1607 S street, at 7:30 o'clock, and which will be followed by a large reception from 8 to 10 o'clock. The bride will have for her only attendant Mrs. Whiting, matron of honor, and the bridegroom will be attended by Harry Fox, of Philadelphia. Mr. Smith is a son of Mrs. Clinton Smith, of this city, and is well known in Washington business circles.
